

MEDICAL DIRECTOR, NEONATAL INTENSIVE CARE UNIT (NICU) sought Children's Hospital Los Angeles Medical Group in Tarzana, CA.

Duties: Oversees CHLA Medical Group Neonatologists in the provision of consistent, high-quality evidence-based practices and optimal outcomes. In collaboration with Regional Director, oversees all clinical, Administrative, and quality improvement activities and patient experience in the PTMC NICU. Ensure the highest level of achievement of designated Division and Unit based quality improvement metrics and outcomes. Ensure integration and participation of CHLA Medical Group Neonatologist in quality, performance improvement and clinical effectiveness and committees at the local, regional and national level. In collaboration with PTMC and CHLA administrative leaders, ensure compliance with federal and state healthcare program regulations, accreditation requirements, licensure and other regulatory requirements, including the California Department of Health Care Services, California Children's Services, California Department of Public Health, Joint Commission on Accreditation of Health Care Certification. Perform all other medical director duties.

Send resume to: Brittani Williams, Children's Hospital Los Angeles Medical Group, 4650 Sunset Blvd., MS 31, Los Angeles, CA 90027

Requirements: Medical degree (M.D) or equivalent and plus six (6) year of experience as a Medical Director, Pediatric Resident/Fellow, Attending Neonatologist or related occupation. Must have experience in providing direct supervision of a neonatal transport team's activities in managing critically sick newborns during transport from referring facilities; leading transport case reviews, educational initiatives, and quality and performance improvement projects; and providing neonatal simulation education to NICU nurses, NICU respiratory therapists, pediatric resident physicians, NICU nurse practitioners, neonatal hospitalists, and neonatologists to improve delivery of neonatal care. Must have state (CA) physician licensure and board certification in pediatrics and neonatal-perinatal medicine.