Advances in imaging technology and minimally invasive surgical techniques have improved our ability to diagnose and treat fetal conditions in the womb. In partnership with the Los Angeles Fetal Surgery Program we are providing cutting-edge cardiac interventions and developing novel fetal therapies.

In close collaboration with the hospital's Heart Institute and the Institute of Maternal-Fetal Health (IMFH), the Fetal Cardiology Program offers a comprehensive team approach to management, with:

- State-of-the-art fetal echocardiography diagnosis
- Comprehensive prenatal cardiology consultation
- Advanced diagnosis and management of fetal arrhythmia and heart block
- Fetal cardiac interventions
- Pre-operative evaluation of twin-twin transfusion (TTTS) syndrome and extracardiac malformations
- Complete fetal and neonatal subspecialty care
- Coordinated perinatal management with seamless transition from fetal life to postnatal care
- Medical and surgical care of the newborn infant following delivery
- World-class congenital heart surgery
